

Dear Sir/Madam,

Late Sow. Kamaltai Jamkar Mahila Mahavidyalaya, Parbhani is the fruit of pioneering efforts of the visionary leader Late Shri Raosahebji Jamkar (Ex- Minister of State for Agriculture, AHD, Fisheries, Maharashtra State) as an initiative to facilitate the women of the region. It was established in 1983 and is reaccredited with 'A' Grade by the NAAC, Bangalore.

This is an endeavour to facilitate the educational scenario of the region particularly with the revised and ICT Based NAAC framework that has been introduced since July 2017 by NAAC.

We take this opportunity to provide expertise to the concerns to confront ICT based NAAC Framework with the Opportunities and Challenges therein.

Being a part of the seminar will be a step towards enhancing the Quality

Renowned Academicians are invited to enlighten us in this quality Indicator framework.

With regards !

About Parbhani

Parbhani, called as 'Prabhavati Nagari' in ancient days, is a renowned city of Maharashtra. It has been described as the land of saints as several saints have been associated with Parbhani including Saint Janabai from Gangakhed. Pathari, near Parbhani is worshiped as the birth place of Shri Sai Baba. The most popular attraction of Parbhani is Pardeshwara (Lord Shiva) Temple. Urs of Shah Turab-UI-Haq is an important festival of Parbhani that is celebrated by the people of different religions together for almost a week from 2 - 12 February every year. Late Shri Raosahebji Jamkar has contributed notably in the cultural enhancement of the Parbhani city.
